

Greens/EFA counterproposal to the “single” External Instrument for the post-2020
Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF)
Covering foreign affairs, enlargement, neighbourhood, development and defence

14.06.2018

General remarks:

- The Greens/EFA Group agrees with the Commission and the EEAS that compared to the current financial architecture for External Action, the future structure should be simpler and more coherent.
- However, contrary to the Commission, the Greens/EFA group rejects the idea of the Commission to merge 12 external financing instruments in one “External Action” instrument in which at least 10 %, in certain circumstances even much more, of the funds would be spent on migration (see recital 30 of the draft regulation).
- The future financial architecture needs to strike the balance between predictability and flexibility. We see room for merging 6 external action instruments and 5 development cooperation instruments (see those highlighted in grey). We stress the importance of maintaining separate instruments for important Union policies such as enlargement (IPA), neighbourhood (ENI), development (merger of DCI and EDF), human rights and democracy (EIDHR) and civilian conflict prevention/crisis response (IcSP).
- As regards Union support for closer military cooperation between Member States, the Greens/EFA Group rejects the idea to use scarce EU budget resources for supplementing Member States military spending and instead proposes maximal pooling of national funds in an off-budget European Peace which should be renamed: “European Facility for Military Cooperation”. This is factually more in line with the scope of the facility, which not only addresses military peacekeeping, but also other aspects.
- Overall, the Greens/EFA Group believes that the next MFF provides an opportunity to correct the trend of a foreign and development policy driven by short-term interests, particularly migration control. Over the past years, we have witnessed the creation of a large number of trust funds and facilities, which are beyond parliamentary control. Migration is a global phenomenon that will remain a challenge, as well as an opportunity, and should be addressed by instruments, that are shaped in ordinary, transparent and democratic co-decision processes. Time is over for non-democratic ad hoc solutions via “emergency” trust funds that deliver dubious results.
